"What makes you think trouble put those lines in my face?" asked the anitan.
"I don't know how I know it," asid the pags perpleaedly, "hat I do. You see, when they took me away from mother and brought me to the paice. I thunght you would be just perfectly happy. But you look like the old rugmaker near us did when the soldiers broke his loom to pieces."

The aultan grinned, his lip curling anyward, after the fashion of a wolf, "Would that my visiae could hear thee pay compilmontal But my loom is not broken, and woe unto those who attempt it! Thou seest the splendor of any palace?"

"You have more things than any one could count," said the page refactively. "What a good time your boys must hava!"

The anitan scowled. His heir apparent was in the depths of a toad infested dungeon, which his other some trembled daily for their heads. "I don't talk of them," he mattered. "Ungraisful hounds they are!" Thes he added hastily, by way of changing the aubject: "Your infide! sect cliege to its holes, which it calls homes. The history of our schools in South Weymouth process that the school som-mittee know very little about what Is going in in them. I can say, on the to be that of Jack of all trades, good at none. Mr. McDonald, signit of the Massachusetts Hoard of Education, at the last Saturday gathering of the Pentury the School," said that "steering our chieses ile School," said that "steering our chiese though ship by the examination star, is one authority of the teachers, that, until very lately, a visit of the school committee was of the greatest errors of our system." Dr. Walter Chambig, before the Brookschool committee, for until a matter be-comes "town talk" in intention is pald to it. The committee stands pledged to n certain course and no variation appears to be allowed. Of course, new members the Educational Society, lately remarked "After a few years I believe that no school system in this country will be re-garded as complete that does not have garited as complete that those not make special classes in proportion to the num-her of pupils." Personally I remember well how discouraged I was in my second year at the High school over my Lath. I could not make head or tall out of it, and, as it spulled me for all other work, I was make an attempt to enforce some changes, which results in a dead-lock. A member

Give the superintendent in Hying chance employing one who is ditted for the post lon, and is an expert in his parties charge the bands of a study, select the text books, etc., and I believe the trick will be done.

The teachers are quick to discret any friction between the superintendent and the school committee, and as qubsk to lose respect for either one or the other. If the teachers in town could write a tem; that the first question an up-to-date man will ask is in regard to delivery of mail. I replied to him, that in my opinion the trace of country of the rest question asked is always in regard to the schools. I know that we are bosing our families year after year. I have in mind one in my tichity which is about to make a move mearer Thayer Academy where the daughter is in attendance, and I know also that many people in our town who are dived so that they cannot move away, or send their children out of town, are most dissatisfied with the present arrangement.

There are many objections to the campaigness of the committee that may objection to them. There are many objections to the campaigness of the last clerition, what a different condition of smairs we night expect.

Of course, Mr. Editor, 1 regret that it should fall to my lot to be the common scale of the People's Column, but when we have improved the character of our public schools, have united our character or too tough to be bandled anywhere else, if course the great majority of pupils are worthy, but I believe that home indiscusses are better for children in their early teens, and I wish our Weymouth is should system coult be so adjusted that there would be no necessity for sending so many children out of town.

THE COUNTRY PAPER.

(Nothaniel S. Olds in Baitimore San Amid the pile of papers
That swamp my desk each day
And drive me wesk with clipping
And diling stuff away,
Comes once a week-on Thursday
That quaint old lon-page sheet
That's printed up in Pebam,
A drowny county seet.

You zee, 'was up in I 'cham
That first I asw the light,
And - well, my heast grows solies
And I leef my eyes shine bright;
Sight reverent on I touch is,
it spreads the colonous wide,
The local's what I'm seeking—
Not the patented isside.

Ah, kere II is, "The County."
And "Jetings," "Local News"—
Yon learn who traded hows
And who have rested pews 1
It tells about the choolhouse
Where we used to ait end diean
Awatching dust specks dancing
In the sunlight's shilly beam.

The sturdy names of boyhood Come tumbling through our thoughts, Oil Tom and Brick and Bridey—— How we loved und how we fought! The triends when years graw graver, Called now beyond nor ken, to the type lines at the paper They live and upeak again.

O, tollers in life's workshops, Are not those dream-mists swe Which memory casts about us When past and present meet? And so, I love that paper From the village in the hills, For the old life that it wakens, For the old life that it wakens, Once of the best farmers we have come across for some line is a tenant farmer, and he has been such for twenty-five years. When he first began routing land, he was very poor and could not have the chap hand which he worked. It some way he did not seem to sense the fact that this hand was aura to rapidly advance in value, and he had besides a nosi unconquerable acresson to running lata debt. He has seen the farm upon which he lives and works advance in value from $15 to $65 per acre, and now that his landlord is advancing his rent the mistake made is very plain to be acen. The CAME GRING.

The repeating shoigun and rife, with poorly coforced grams laws, have about scienced out all the settled portions of the country of all wild game. Save as lorge tracts of meantain woodland or printle marsh may be bought up hy ayudicates of men who love apert and the game thereon cratected, there will be none to be found to a very few years. The wild plegons are all gone; only in few prairie chickens are left in illinois, Missouri, Wisconsin and lowa. The wild fewl—the ducks, brant and genee—are so lucessantly bombarded from the tims they can fly in August until they return to their northern neating grounds in April that they have leoried to shuu all algas of civilization. The quali, which takes more kindly to man find his ways than any other of our game hirds, might be madu plentiful if it wars only given decent pratection, but sho pot hunter ready to hag the wholes fick at one shot is to be found in every community, and so this most nitractire title hird has no show. The ruffed grouso and the woodcockkings of the timber lands—are nearly all wheel out. It seems a pity that this must be so. J. F. & W. H. CUSHING Middle Street, WEYMOUTH CENTER.

THERE GOID APPLEA.

We are asked to name a short list of hardy applea for glanting in aouthern Minnesota, eastern South Dakoin and northern Iowa. While there is a long list of apples which may be grown in the territory referred to, we bell it down to the following: Duchena, early summer; Wentthy, fall; Northwestern threening, whiter. The first named is absolutely hardy, the second reasonably see and the last anneal apparently hardy. These three applea are all good in quality, the Greening keeping with usuall May under ordinary celar conditions. In addition to the above, the Whitney crab has a place, for it is a nice little aummer apple and a good bearer.

NEW YORK, March 11.-How New York, March 11.—How women would express their sense of loss by the death of some loved one if it were not for the crape and takek goods to make inp into someter garments it is difficult to say. It seems that multing short of being awathed from head to foot he ancie garments could silevinte the grief. Itul since we must wear or see others wear mourting habiliments let us at least try to relieve the sail somhermess of some of its effect by having the garments made as prettily as posthe grammata made as prettily as pos-able. right in the laws of the Medes and Persians that we read about—such a depth of crape for such a loss and length of time after the funeral. The styles are graded, and the widow always has the libr's share of crape. I have often wondered if that was not arranged on purpose so that her loss aboutd seem so direful that sympathets le nen would nake mora haste to console her.

Now when a woman loses son, father, brother or daughters she has certainly lost much, but it is to be supposed that she has not suffered as deep sorrow, though persists a more lasting one, as the widow. So she does not need to faunt her profound trouble before the worth. With a widow il a different. I will not argue the question any longer, but will tell what the widow and the rest have in these days to mark their grief.

Al a hanquet in Maniin Geaersi Chaffee, just back from the campaign in Hinna, made a, speech in which he deplored the carreless dress of the American troops and riged the officers to employ good tailors so as to set a good existable in the matter of dress to the men. This criticism by tienrral Chaffee, the war department says, is undoubtedly deserved.

European officers are slickiers for proper diress when on duty, and the farther they are from home the more careful the they become with their elothing. Not so with the American soldief when he geta away. Then the western helm of careless, swinging gait asserts thaeff in all things.

The war department officials say they wish Americans would be a tittle more careful in titls matter of dress, but there is no suggestion that any new regulations are to be put into effect. The men are all furnished with good, well fitting elothes. The American soldier is claid in a uniform that is more expensive and better fitting when new than the uniform of the soldier of any other nation. This whole roughle is that he does not wear it properly. He simply will not keep his cont buttoned when the weather gels too warm for him. The officers sometimes try in keep the men spruced up, but officer, and this alone would be a great task. So the American and ladependent, and his officer is praud of him even heside the nattlest soldiers in the world.

The Economies of Combination.
According to the statements of The Iron Age, which must be regarded us good nutherly ou the iron and ateel trade, consolidation, in so far as it re-lates to the operations of the United Stotes Steel corporation or rules the chart, does not atific competition or rules the price of the product. Tho Iron Age renches the conclusion that in n thoroughly organized industrial consolidation the reduction of manu-facturing cost is little less than revolutionary. This would seem to furnish a satisfactory explanation of the pel-icy of the Steel corporation in opposing the advance in prices which the consumptive demand would warrant. It

MAMMOTH BIRDCAGE.

One of the Little (Low Attractions of the Notices) Capital.

Washington, in addition to its other attractions, possesses the largest little deep in the United States, perhaps in the worth. It is 110 by 220 feet ground illuensions and 130 feet high and is breated in the very heart of the elty, at the busiest point in a busy section. It is, in fact, the court of the posioilles building, and at times it is filled with sparrows, licely twittering filling the air and leading a sirange incongruity to the otherwise soleum surroundings of the great huilding.

The birds enter the glass covered court through the ventilating situs at the north and south ends near the peak of the roof, and only by accident do they find their way again to the open air. At times there are secrees of them lying about within the incolarce; the nullroom, on the ground floor, there is a flat, glass covered roof, partitioned off with planks, and on these laters arranged many halms from lates to persons and places in Eas calutree, I fear that my esteemed friend, sons reterred to in takes ranquers in secun only a short lime ago that these neighbors and friends, with me, were sharing the ups and slowns of life. The father of E. S. Hunt was Major Ellas Hunt. He was a remarkable man, es-pecially as a singer. How well: I recall his roupass of volce. With little diffi-lation of the state of the state of the state. his rompass of voice, With Hitte diffi-culty I have heard bling sing three octaves. His nearest competitor was, I think, Mr. Cuttligton Nash who lived in the east part of the town, Wint remarkable talent those men had in yout moste. The Incident to which you referred when Major Hunt was unwilling to sing in cer-tain hymn, I can youch for, us I was a member of the choir at that time, although only stateen years of age. As I remem-ber, the hieldent occurred the last year that our choir sang with an orchestra which consisted of Hichard A. Hunt, 1st violin; Mr. Lincola, finte; Warren Stet on, 'cello, aml Charles E. Hunt, base son, 'cello, and Charles E. Hunt, bas-viol, and n the orelestra B was too.

In one chapter I nolice reference to the Weymouth "Light Infantry Company," I remember the company very well. In one occasion when they had formed for drill as usual at the old lary scales the company marched up Commercial street and when opposite the old hotel, Capt. Henls gave the order to halt. He the Hents gave the order to half. He then requested the hand, composed of fle and drum, to sainte Mr. Wales, the properletor of the hotel. They fild their best by playing some of their favorite ears." The Capt, then gave orders to march in single file to the har-room where n ewet' hugh had been provided. After partis-ing freely, orders were also n for march-ing freely, orders were also n for marching and counter marching. On this par-ticular occasion the "ploneer" with his mmand, marched up Front street while the others marched up Washington street All I remember of their uniforms was the large hell-topped hat which was made of black enamelled sale leather which was very heavy, and their occk atocks made of the same unterial with a long peak under the chin. The club met fortulghtly at the mem-hers homes during the fall and winter ang in conjunction with the Quincy Gle sang in conjunction with the quanty case. Club and a line collation was provided. The second, at the residence of Col. Minor Thayer in Hralatree, where the lond diluing table, sattlebut for nearly lifty invited guests, was amply provided from invited guests, was amply provided from the products of his large farm. I well remember the two large and well browned mongred geese which adorned the table. How We Assessment is.

There was a minister in a little Nebraskn town who had two matters which were very close to the heart. Ha had prayed long and carnestly that the mortgage of the church might be paid aff and that he night have a son and helr. Not heng ago a boy came to gindden his heart and home, and on the same day the rich man af the village died, leaving $3,000 with whigh the pay off the church debt.

The town was wild with eachtement over the dnable evant, and beta were freely mede as to which subject was aloosest to a the minister's heart and which be would refer to first in his sermon on the following Sunday. The eventfal day mrived, and eacttement ran high. There was an expectant hush when the minister entered the putple.

"My friends," be said, "you knew what has been close to my heart for many years, and you know of the joyful happenings of the past week; and now, my friends, I want you to join with me in thauking God for the euccur that has been sent us."

And then all bets were off.

Science For He Own Sake

actases Fee Itse Own Sake.

A prominent feature in Faraday's clairecter was his absolute love of science for his ewn saks. Ha freely gave his discoveries to his world when he could enaily have huilt up a colossal fortune upon them. He once told his friend, Professor Trudail, that et a certain period of his career ha had definitely to ask himself whether he should make wealth or science the object of his life, He could not serve both maniera and was therefore compelled in choose between them. When preparing his well known memoir of the great master, the professor called to mind the conversation and naked leave to examine his eccounts, and this is the conclusion the professor nurived at:

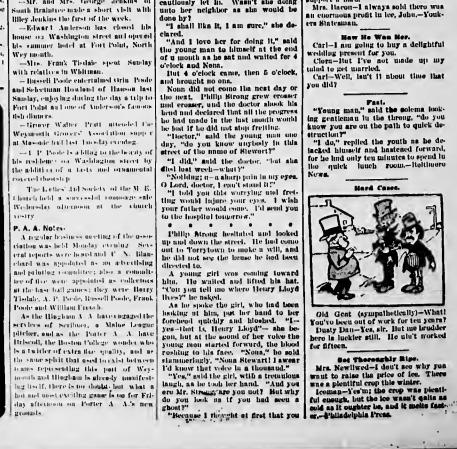

Taking the duration of his life into account, this son of n blackamith and apprentice to a isoshinder had it oded between n fortune of £150,000 on the one aide and his ancustowed science on lie other. He chose the letter and died n poor mnn. But his was the givry of holding nieft among the nationa the scientific name of England for a period ut forty years.

SHIRT WAIST JACKETS. Monte turtus Are Nality Little Af-

18pecial Currespondence.1 New York, May 20,... The newest agony in the way of author wrots is to have a short jacket looking like a blouse waist which the modiste has forgotten to sew in at the walst. The fronts hang forward and outward, sometimes in a point and sometimes is a square shape. In the illustration is one style and rather a pretty one. The back is song, and the fronts are laid in box idalis.

I saw one yesterday made of gray homespan. The upper parts of the sleeves were tucked in narrow folds slanting ont to nothing toward the Is-li drape. They were lined with saths of a durker shade of gray, and the jacket was also fined with the satin.

called Monte Carlo Jackets. The up-per parts of this one were tucked, like the sheeves, half way down, and from there they stretched out bosely, so the points of the garment fairly stuck on beyond the body. The skirt was tucked down half way, and the rest fell loose. ly. In spile of the real ugliness of the jacket the whole suit was stylish and These special jackets require folds or tacks to bring them into the proper fashion. The model in the Hinstration has the skirt laid in folds ornamented with several rows of stitching aroun the hem. The sheves, it will be remarked, have the tops nearly plain, while the bottom is tucked into cuffs deep and wide. Across the front at the client are frogs and loops to fasten am Incidentally ornament it.

Some of the Monto Curlos are unde of bluck tuffeta and are not lined. The object of these garments seems to be to have a hamly and chie little garment to slip on over a shirt waist.

The shirt waist question is quite as important as it has been, and, according to the manufacturers, there will be quite as many worn next winter as now. The only thing is that there must be no falling off in beauty or style. It keeps the designers busy to invent something new all the time, but on one designer sold to be, "While you first is out of hand."

Wheeever there is an lavestment made ie good blood in any sort of do-mestic antinat, there abould be a cor-responding investment made in good food and good care for it, because an critter on earth can do husiness ou s pedigree sloee.

Wo were in a section of the west nat long sleec where the sell on the hills, which rose at an angle of 30 to 35 degrees on all the faries, was just as fertile ou the tops of the bills as it was on the lower levels. This condi-tion is not often to be found.

Hen manuro is an exceedingly con-centrated fertilizer and should not by used in a crudo form for the flower beels, but should be mixed with de-cayed vegetation, leaves and cow un-nure, one part to five, when it makes a very valuable fertilizer for the gar-den.

We know of two or three town bred girs who have lately married farmers, and so far they are really charmed with farm life. It is coming to this pretty fasi-that a farm home under needern conditions is ubout as good a home as there is to be found onywith its virtue unimpaired. We regard it altogether as quite a remarkable faci We are asked what causes eyelenes we are asset wast causes cyclones and thunderstorms. A very long, abstruse reply might be given to this query, but it is best answered by saying that all atmospheric disturbances are primarily caused by things being the state of the same than the same and the same than the same are the same are the same as the same are the same out of place, and the sloru is the ef-fort of nature to restore an equilibri-um, and the cause of things getting out of place is the heat of the sun.

All the road taxes of the state of lows will bereafter have to be paid in cash, and the township is to be the neit of highway administration. This brooks out the suchast and time bonk. ored picele associated with working on the road- and will prevent a very largo number of good men from ever holding the office of road supervisor. Ever other state should go and do likewise.

Creamerles are now helag rated by insurance companies as extra inzard-ous risks, and yet it seems strango why this should be so. True, there is the pile of sinck coal adjoining the en-glue roose, which is niwnys a fruitful cause of spoutaneous combustion, an then there is the carclessly adjuste smokestack, and then there is a thre thousand dollar policy of a creamery where there are only 20 cows to feel it, this last causing much of the extra hazardous risk.
